III. Applications

CAC Application # 15-07-01

Project: Cynthia's Compass

Location: Right-of-Way on West North Broadway, between Milton and High Streets

Applicant: Clintonville Historical Society

Presenters: Mary Rodgers, Clintonville Historical Society

Agnes Burris, Artist, Clintonville

West North Broadway Street in Clintonville has been designated, Memory Lane, by the community. The Clintonville Historical Society asked artist Agnes Burris to create an art proposal for Memory Lane inspired by the story of Cynthia Bull, who as a child assisted the efforts of her father, Jason Bull, who was known as a "conductor" on Ohio's Underground Railroad. The artist created a proposal for a silhouette of a young girl, Cynthia Bull, cut out of slabs of granite and marble that will be notched so they stand erect. The stone will be carved with constellations used by runaway slaves to guide their journey to points further north.

Staff requested photographs of the proposed installation site. The Department of Public Service has not yet reviewed the project for placement in the right-of-way or issued applicable permits. Applicants plan to submit the work for permitting pending CAC approval of design and placement. Substantive changes to the sculpture location, although not anticipated, would require the applicant to return to the CAC for approval of the new placement location.

Action Requested:

Approval of the design and placement of the Cynthia's Compass sculpture and its installation on West North Broadway in ROW, between Milton and High Street, per Code Chapter 3115.04 (B)

CAC Application # 15-07-02

Project: 111 N. Front Street City of Columbus Administration Building (new build)

Location: 111 N. Front Street

Applicant: Schooley Caldwell Associates, Design Group, little INDUSTRIES on behalf of the Columbus Department of Finance and Management

Presenters: Robert Loversidge, FAIA, President/CEO, Schooley Caldwell Associates

Michael Bongiorno, AIA, LEED AP BB +C Director, Designer, Design Group

Sam Rosenthal, AIA, LEED AP, Schooley Caldwell Associates

Adam Brouillette, Artist/Consultant, little INDUSTRIES

111 N. Front Street is the newly designed City of Columbus Administrative building. Construction is scheduled to start in August 2015. The project was bid and in design before the Columbus Public Art Program was established by Executive Order in February 2015. It is the first Capital Budget funded project bid by any City Department that required an artist be included on the project design team. The Mayor's Office expressed an interest in featuring art by local artists in the design of the building. The design team awarded the project, Schooley Caldwell and Design Group, who retained Adam Brouillette of little INDUSTRIES to work with the team to identify project features/elements for art enhancement, and to identify locally-based artists to design integrated artworks for the features identified.

Action Requested:

Conceptual Approval of the design and placement of art within the 111 N. Front Street City Administration building (new build) per Columbus Code Chapter 3115.03 (A) and 3115.04 (A) & (B)
